In Sparc, a data-driven, deep learning-based AI agent guides the player through 21 different sports in a fantasy-like world where every match is true to the real sports experience. Based on key trends across national and global sports tournaments and matches, a robust AI and advanced player feedback technology delivers the best possible gameplay experience as the player anticipates the outcome of each match. Players are challenged with the sudden transfer to a hyper-immersive environment, as they compete on the edges of their senses, and are rewarded for retaining this edge throughout the game. The use of VR to create the most dynamic game play possible has never been done before and showcases an entirely new creative space which is something that only VR can deliver. Deep breath it's Friday. Where has this week gone?!? The weekend is around the corner, or perhaps it's already here. There's plenty of fun happening and lots to play this weekend. So, what are your plans?

1. Attend a local Improv Show - The Comedy Attic presents Improv on Friday Toronto's improv comedy troupe, The Comedy Attic, presents Improv on Friday, July 9th at The Comedy Attic. Locations

Plan out your mission using the interactive map. If it's a turn based mission that's good news, because the fleet map is now interactive for turn based gameplay. click a block on the map and the featured tutorial objectives appear in red to see if you can complete all the objectives in the time window. If you fail you have to rewind time and retry.

Display Squad Details

This screen provides much useful information on your fleet including stats and squad details.

Target Details

This screen lists the service, weapons and target location and date.

Anomalies

Normally this screen would list ships you need to gain as you level up your fleet, as you gain players you'll start to receive anomalies and when you do it's time for you to investigate the anomalies. You can pick any of them at this screen and the rest will appear on the next turn.

Break it Down

If you have taken the time to plan your strategy, you now need to break that down. The clickable blocks on the map are the different strategical options you can now make. If you activated 'Butler Mode' it will remove your turn from the queue and replace it with one the AI orders in the process.

Target Situation

This screen will detail where your fleet and your target ship is. The result of 'Continuity Drill' or you can 'Call Exploit' at this screen.
